

Roch Feng

Throughout high school at Sir Winston Churchill (SWC), I have come to the realization that participating in my extracurricular activities has had a great influence on my values. Through achieving the Duke of Edinburgh's Gold Award, I learned the value of persistence and the significance of giving back to society. Receiving the Scholastic Art & Writing Silver Key Award was a result of my dedication in artistic expression, which pushed me to continuously improve my skills and explore new creative boundaries. As a 110M hurdler at the provincial level, I embraced the challenges of demanding training, developing discipline, and understanding the rewards of pushing myself beyond my limits. Finally, serving as the Vice President of the Student Council allowed me to contribute to advocating for community interests, fostering a positive and inclusive environment while developing leadership skills, diplomacy, and teamwork. These experiences have not only influenced my personal morals but have also set the foundation for my future pursuits.

In addition, my educational journey has been shaped by a strong language background and a commitment to academic excellence. Attending a French immersion program in elementary school not only enhanced my language skills but also instilled in me a deep appreciation for diverse cultures and the value of being bilingual. This immersive experience challenged me to think critically and communicate effectively, fostering a love for learning that has stayed with me throughout high school.

To further challenge myself academically, I joined the SWC's Prelude program upon entering grade 10. This advanced academic track prepared me for the demanding International Baccalaureate (IB) program, allowing me to delve deeper into various subjects and develop crucial skills such as critical thinking, research, and time management. The IB program provided a stimulating environment that nurtured my curiosity and encouraged me to explore new areas of knowledge.

As a result of my academic and extracurricular achievements, I was admitted into universities such as University of British Columbia, University of Toronto, Western University & Queens University. Using the skills and experiences I gained from high school, I will continue my studies in post-secondary to further pursue a career in the business field. I have had many valuable memories in high school and I am excited to carry on my journey in university!